Biography of Judge Heary W. Williams

the Hegraphy:

Mr. Smith was received with repurous appliance, and protected to deliver the following biographical sketch of our worthy candidate. He said:

noral, political and judicial engracier of our can-lidate; and it is, perhaps ditting that I should to this, no I have known Judge Williams longer, and more indinately, then any person in this tonse.

onse.
My acquaintance with him commenced in Col-ore in 1833, as a class mate, and since that time

WEDNESDAY, JULY 24, 1867. PA.,

dudge Forward's najority over Judge Hepburn, was only 1,223, and Judge McCiane's over James S. Craft, only 1,117.

So well, tainfulls, impartially and satisfactority did Judge Williams discharge the duties of life office, and so learned, up light and useful a Judge did he prove himself to be, in the estimation of all men, that at the end of his first Judical term of ten years, in 1801, he was ominated by accianation by the then two great parties of the country, and was re-elected wilhom opposition from any quarter. Such renewed evidence of popularly and appreciation in one's own neighborhood, and among men of all parties, are very rare, and most clearly forestudow the very flattering vote which the Judge will receive from the people of this country on the second Tuesday. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant.

Judge Williams' mainiors and bearing are al-ways piensing. In social intercourse, he is the life of the circle in which he uningles. Cheerful, lively and witty, never by look or word, intent locally, wounding the feeling, or speaking III of any one, he makes friends of all. His extensive reading and large information upon all subjects, make his society sought for by the learned and scientific. In history, in the classics and in the natural and metaphysical sciences, there are few more thorough and extensive students than Judge Williams. HON. H. W. WILLIAMS, all things, frithin in this works and nonest and paright in all his dealines, neither by word no by act does he ever offend public decency, or oring the cause of sound morals and rice religion into repursed. Religious without Phartecism or largerty, while he selects and cherishes his one church connections, in which he has been a con-

into reported. Rengious without mair-equinity or bigory, while he selects and cherishes his own church connections, to which he has been a consistent, active and loading probasor, he cheerfully, and as a matter of principle, concedes the right of indefine and determining for themselves to all other men. No one ever heard him denomine any man, or any seet, for differing with him upon theological doginas.

In pointes, ludge Williams was at the first a Walg of the Clay and Webster school, holding with the former that protection to some extent was necessary to encourage and loater the industrial interests of Pennsylvania, and with the latter that there was no object in our polities so much to be constantly kept in mand and maintained, in every event, as the perpetual minor of these States. When the evigencies of the times gave both to the Republican party, his far-seeing ratiolitem, and his long cherished love of the Union, led him to cust his voices and give his influence, so far as it was consistent with his official station, in layor of the principles and candidates of the days. During the rebuilting the credit and authority of the former, and encouraging by constant thin the glourious success of the latter. Those inflimites with him all not readily forget his energetic interance against trasson and traitors, and the strong and emphalic manner with which he was won to declare that the Union matter and should, at all hazards, he preserved. While no partisan or ultrals in politics, he is in two of linguistics of the people dedicand them.

biographical sketch of our worthy candidate. He said:

I come hore to might, my fellow-citizons, to per form what is to une a pleasont duny—to join with you in giving our adherence to the plantorm of principles adopted by the great Onton Republican party of this State, at the Convention Lately held in Williamsport, and in manifosting our satisfaction and pleasure in the nonthallon by that Convention, of our follow clitzen, Hon. Hunry W. Williams, as a conditate for election to the highest judicial position of this Commonweauth. Yature is shall express my cordial approval of the principles counciated in that wise, moderate and partitie cased of polineal lath, which hreathes, in every line, a love for freedom and human rights, and mixed with no demand for vengeance, by saying that I would hardly add to, or detract, one wond therefrom, I shall leave its discussions to those able gentlemen who may follow, and devote the brief line allottal rue upon this occasion in speaking of the personal, and the political and in place of the personal didner and it is, perhaps litther that I should didner at the second burger. in any saying too much of him to say that he has proved himself in every respect, the equal of any of them. During the time that he has been upon the bench he has probably tried as many and as important commercial, land and constitutional cases as any other Judge of his years in the State, and as a commercial and constitutional table, and as a commercial and constitutional State, and as a commercial and constitutional lawyer and Judge, he has no superior on the hand. Quick to see the real point in the cause precented belong birn, and prompt to decide so-ording to well established rules of law and evidence, he has shown himself a sound clear and practical Judge, whose opinions and decisions have been as seldom reversed by the Suprems Court as those of any other Judge of any other interior Court in the State. These opinions, many of which have found place in our legal reports, are sound and lucid expositions of the parts, are sound and lucid expositions of the parts, and the case before him. They always possesses the merit of adhesion to the question at 5 sine, of clearness and brevity. He never wanders from the point involved, and never seeks to have this litt the de-My acquammance with non-commence in cor-ting in 1833, as a class mate, and since that time i have studied with him, taught with bin, and practiced in my profession with, and under him. I have known him as a student, as teacher, as twyer and as fudge; and what is more, during all that time, I have known him as an intimate personal triend. I have known him more the-toughly than I have known him more the-toughly than I have known any other living man, not excepting my own brother, and I say here to-night, in presence of this large audience, tim-even were I so disposed, I could truthfully speak no fill of him. sense the merit of adhesion to inequestion at issue, of clearness and brevity. He never wanders from the point involved, and never seeks to inject his own notions of law or othics into the decisions of the Courts which ought, ever to be faithful interpretacions of constitutions and laws as they are. He is not a judicial law-maker, many of whom, to the grid the profession, we have, but a judicial law expounder, leaving the making of the laws to those whose business it is. In his charges to the jury, ho lays down the law of the uses with great elearness.

Judge Williams is of the good old revolutionary Whig stock, which achieved our authonal independence in 1776, and from his ancestors are had succeeded in the story love of liberty, independence, freedom and national mont, which had been strongthened by the great events of these latter times. He was been in the beautiful valley of Connecticut—a kinter which hos given birth to such men as Heary Baidwin, Walter Forward, Garrick Mailory and William Stung—and is now in the full prime and vigor of membood.—From the people and of them, he has been undirected in the secondary by the architect of his swn fortune. His faller, a well-to-farmer, beld with most New England fathers of that day, that it was better for toys to help themselves than to be dependent open the paternal savings, and after having turnished his son with the means of acquiring an education, be sent him torth from the paternal home, at an early age, to make his way in the world and fight the battle of his unided, save his own of energy and talents.

In college, shakes Williams gave promise of his future success. He became at once one of it emiss became at once one of it emiss popular men of his class, loved and respectively. With such a candidate and in a cause at worthy, most popular men of his class, loved and respectively. With such a candidate and in a cause at worthy, its great regard for truth, his strict integrity, and for his entire freedom from envy and field and for his entire freedom from envy and field for the control of the East in raising the bandand of his entire freedom from envy and field field and for his entire freedom from envy and field field in a field field freedom and the Union still higher, and a scholar, especially as a speaker, debuter, a logician, and a metaphysician, which rank he main manual and increased during his college, Massachusetts, in the summer of 1837, and so proud has his alma mater been of this one of her favorite som that she some time since honored herself by the following sensible vein to his old paper, the New Orleans Pressyme hard:

align mater been of this one of her favorite some that she some time since honored herself by bestowing inou him the honored degree of Doctor of Laws. After spending the intervening time in teaching, he commenced reading law the office of ex-Chief Justice Lowde, of this city, in the spring of 1899, and was admitted to the strong of 1899, and was admitted to the procession with increasing success from the time of his admission to the bar, as a partner with the procession with increasing success from the time of his admission to the bar, as a partner with the procession with increasing success from the time of his admission to the bar, as a partner with the procession with increasing success from the time of his preceptor, until the letter was appointed Judge of the District Coart of this county, and then with the late Wm. M. Shian, until elevated for the first time to his precent position in the fall of 1851.

As a lawyer, Judge Williams was a cautious, safe, homest and reliable counsellor, and an earnest, homest and reliable counsellor, and an earnest and the law and the office of the law instead of getting them in, but when in, with a good came, all his energies and abilities were but to bringing with his clients were not reliable to the law in the strong with the late of the law in the late of the law i the first time to his present position in the fall of 1851.

As a lawyer, Judge Williams was a cautious, safe, homest and reliable counsellor, and an earnist, cloquent and generally successful advocata. He endeavored to keep his chents out of the law finstead of getting them in, but when in, with a good cause, all his energies and abilities were bout to bringing matters to a lavorable lastic.—His dealings with his cheats were ever characterized by justice and falthfulness. While he would never knowing by take a had case for the sake of the ice, he never gave up a good one because his client was unable to pay lim. His intercourse with his professions! brulinen was saways kind, conticous and honorable, never mostring to what is termed "sharp practice" to gain an advantage over his opponent. And he creataled at the bar, tew would have mut with greater success in that most difficult, laborious and honorable profession.

It is a free school at which we have a living.' It is all fully to all upon the bank of the river and hesitate, as does a hogy in spring-time before taking his first leath in water he thinks too cold. Better plunge in at once, and be out of misery. How often do we hear people complain that they have been out all day luming for a servant without success. Had they turned to in the morning they could have done all their work themselves in a couple of hours, and sayed money and shoet-leather by the operation. Too many people in the South have been brought up to be waited upon; they must now the their own shoot, and I repeat that he some they begin the hetter it will be. I know that many think they can escape this state of things by going to Brasil or some other out-of-the-way rountry; but toil is the common lot of the poor man the world over, and so far as I have seen, and in no part of the world is tall as remunerative as in the Bouth are stretched. SIR KNIGHT FRANK PORTER, Senior Warder BIR KNIGHT F. H. FOSTER, Junior Wardon. SIR KNIGHT E. D. DRAPER, Recorder. SIR KNIGHT G. C. PORTER, Warder.

SIR KIGHT E. G. WHITESIDES, SWORD Bearer.

SIR KNIGHT H. T. COLT, Standard Bearer. ficers of the Grand Commandery were present. The instituting and installing services were per-formed by and under the direction of Sir Kuight JAMES H. HOPEINS, Senior Grand Warden, acting s Eminent Grand Commander, assisted by fort No. 1. 'A delegation from Baldwin II Comma iery, No. 22 of Williamsport was present. At 5 p. m., the Commandery having been instiuted in form, and the officers installed, the Si-Knights to the number of fifty-seven, headed by band of music, paraded through rincipal streets of the city. The uniforms of the Order never showed to better advantage, or were worn in procession by a finer ooking body of men. The streets were thronged, the windows illied with fair faces, all intenupon seeing such a pageant as never before wa beheld at Meadville.

The new Commandery begins its career under happy and favorable suspices. The membership is now thirty-three and probably within a month over fifty six Knights will owe peculiar allegians to the Northwestern Commandery.

The general headquarters for all the visition Sir Knights and officers, was at the McHenry everybody speaks or writes in its praise, it is perhaps, unnecessary to say more than that the efforts of Mr. Weich, the Superintendent, and manufactured are superior to anything of the his corps of gentlemanty clerks, were successful making all feel that they were "at home." From the Oll City Petruli in. By searcely any probability can the export of petroleum for 1897 be less than that of 1893 indeed, everything seems invocable for a larger export for 1807, than formay previous year. The Allegheny river being too low for navigation, the tanks here have become well filled. The amount of tankage at present in Oil City and vicinity, we should estimate at nearly 200,000 parrels. High est estimates place the amount of oil held in tanks in Pittsburgh at 400,000 harrels. The to dage or water preventing any has trilling amounts of oil being forwarded, it will take but a shor time, if the present demand continues, to empty the Pittsburgh tanks. We can give no correct stimate of the entire amount of all held in the off region in iron talks, but consider that the bulk of It is held in Oil City. While we feel assured that the present rise is or will be permanent in its main leatures, and that enhanced prices will rule for the remainder disposed to take Issue with us. It is claimed by them, that the rise is wholly speculative in all its boarings, and that after the July contracts are filled, prices will again recode, also that there is sufficient amount of oil on land to fill all exist ing contracts. The nimost unprecedented rise in the price of the article, and the great anxiety o contract for all the all that can be obtained for the next eighteen months, has a strong tendency to contradict this theory. An apparently well founded rumor also exists that the present state of affilia is owing to the operations of a powerful "ring," composed of the leading oil firms of Pittsburgh, organized sometime slace. It is stated that this "ring" as not only nossession of enough of the oil held 000 to $5,000,000. This amount is surely enoug to form a highly respectable "corner." Wall Ctheir intentions, it has been discovered by cute parties, that they latend to hold up in July until prices reach 15 cents for conde and 40 cents for refined, and then let go, and make preparations for a similar performance first of August. series of entertainments it is stated sury by eleminstances.

Now, if the "ring" can succeed in raising the price of conde to filtera conts during July, they can send it higher in August, and still higher for each of the succeed dug months. We keep the rimor is corract, and extend to them our hearty ishes, for the benefits they confer upon one to it friends, the producers of Venango county. It formation of these "ting" will lead to Shui-la combinations in all the pulcipal markets, and in no exent can the producers fall to be benefitted martially. In the chooges of prices the producer and reliner are the parties directly affected. The only client a test in proceedings and reliner are the parties directly affected, are, is the message of the employment of a greater,

The only (fl. et a) two lip prices extues to the dealer, is the messity of the employment of a great amount of cipit of to handle the same amount of oil, while owing to the present fieldline for applied than prices and optically greater than when oil is low, and a much less amount of capital required. The itse in prices will materially add the producer in new developments. Prices for the post year have been not love to justify but a very limited amount of development, and owing now to the claim production can be much more than analytically fluctuated. The short like of producing wells, and the rapid decrease of production from nuthe airness of me season is adout winner that analytic production can be much more than analytiched. The short life of producing wells, and the rapid decrease of production from unmerous causes, renders it imperative to keep a large amount of development, regoining a heavy cash capital, constantly in operation. The good time so leng looked for, is coming, and our oil region will have ample cause to riplice and grow but The success of the inventions so far tried, of using perroleum as fuel agon marine steamers and upon locomotives, will be perfected by the beginning of another senson. The demand will then be equal to all the jetreleum that can possibly be produced. Finetta done will occur, but the future of petroleum is indeed brillinat, and we predict a state of affiris for this oil region, that will compare favorably with that of any preceding period.

The latest is contained in a letter to Mr. Sev and from Mr. Berry, of Oregon, who relates that a party of prospecters entoring Russian America from British Columbia in 1862, found in the Stickeen river, three bundred miles from its mouth, gold and sliver deposits of great wealth. He says "they worked with hand-rockers for eight days, and gained thirteen dollars and a half per day in native silver, and eleven hundred dollars in the aggregate in gold. The silver was washed out in pieces sometimes as large as a quarter of a dollar. They also found rubles and ngates, and on Bristol river, copper and coat in-

Spence's Petroleum Burner,—I respectfully invite the attention of all persons using coal or wood as fuel, to my new introduce bearing the above thing which substitutes potroleum, petroleum ter, or other fluid hydro-carbons to produce beat as a motive power. Its successful operation has been domonstrated beyond cavil, as will be seen by the subjunct tendestending the order of the order of the subjunct tendested perits, well known throughout the oil regions. The following considerations will command it to general use. First—its economy. It will save from 30 to 75 per cent. of the ordinary expense of coal or wood. Second—the perfect safety. There is no possibility of explosion—the fire being prevented from running back to the feeding by the sir blow pipe surrounding the same. Third—Its universal application. It can be adapted with equal factlity and success to all likels of portable, stationary and marine boilers, and in locomotives for generating steam, under all kinds of stills, retorts, &c. Fourth—Its labor-saving advantages. After being set in operation, such is the simplicity of the process, that it can be are not with perfect uniformity with but little attention. It can be a easily regulated as a Lercenne lamp, and with as complete combustion. Without enlarging further, I give the following extract from my "Letters Patent," setting forth my claims to take apecific invention:

Titusviia.e., Chawford Co., Pa., }
May 15th, 1867.

The Rev. Napoleon Mignanti, pastor of St. Ti-tus' Church of this city, would respectfully submit the following brief statement to the kind public, which should prompt a few thousands to

Some three years ugo, when plenty, success and prosperity dwelled in and blessed these oil regious, a much needed church, presbytery and school-house were, with the authorization of our Right Reversit Bishop, hastly built and com-pleted. The heavy debt of twelve thousand ($12,000) dollars was incarred by it, hoping to soon liquidate it, he everything indicated a lasting prosperity. But to his great a great, bard times destroyed his plans and hopes. After much labor, and the incussant toll of two years, he finds himself entirely unable to pay off the heavy lastedness. He has tried all available means a concerts, donations, collections, lectures, &c. —taxed his parishioners to their utmost ability, surrendered, to a great extent, his own per sonal resources, failed after all in accomplishing his phicet, and is driven to the necessity of hav which over ten thousand ($10,000) dollars worth of prizes shall be distributed, some of the prizes being worth as much as $500. A fact of some of the prizes can be seen on the back of the ticket. Please notice that only 15,000 tickets shall be ssued at one dollar a tickuj.

When all this is considered, the Rey. N. Mig-nault feels that this application to purchase tickets cutiting to a gift at the fair will not bumade in vain nor considered intrusive. Send one dollar to his address, which will entitle you to a ticket to the fair and to a prize. A partial list of prizes can be seen on the back of the ticket. As to the matter of lotteries or anything of that character, the Rev. M. M. is as much opposed to them as any other Christian; his is no such scheme, or the ec. lesiastical authorities would not have given their kind approbation, which may be seen below. Let prompt attention be uniter: let the money be forwarded to the Rev. Nap. Mignault. Thusville, Postoffice. drawer 1,366, in Postoffice orders, so that the Fair may take place about ninety days from date. pittin, and is now pumping so matrie, which every more collon that the all soon flow, as it is mireaving both in que and oil.

Thrue other wells in the same neighborhood have been brought up from pumping, in the sagirst the about the property of the permitted per dip, and in creasing. One of the internal per dip, and in two into pamping. They will, to all appearances, reach a much higher point.

We believe there has not been a single exception on this fain where your Turpedo has not grantly been fitted the well operated upon. All have been narked successes. Mr. Barnott state that in his well the entire a spring was repaid in two days, and he believes all that may tried the material property and in his well the entire a spring was repaid in two days, and he believes all that may tried the material them that county in which the well of the tried in the county is made to the first him the county of the point allows well over real not the forest the use of the Turpello these wells over can be deep forest the use of the Turpello the explosion man left duties be that respect so annotated to be realistated by the highest degree.
